DISENFRANCHISED GROUPS

| | Disenfranchised | Enfranchised |
|-------------------------|-----------------|--------------|
| [Selected] women | — | 1917 |
| [Chinese-Canadians] | 1872 | 1947 |
| [Indigenous people] | 1872 | 1949 |
| [Japanese-Canadians] | 1895 | 1949 |
| [South Asian-Canadians] | 1907 | 1947 |
| Doukhobors | 1931 | 1952 |
| Mennonites | 1931 | 1948 |
| Hutterites | 1931 | 1948 |

Various occupational categories were also excluded at different times, including civil servants, teachers, judges, police officers, political agents, the military and doctors who performed abortions.

War service in many cases conferred the right to vote before prohibitions were lifted. For example, in 1931 [Japanese-Canadians] who had fought in World War I were allowed to vote.

Although not specifically mentioned by name until 1947 (SBC 1947 c.28), Doukhobors, Mennonites, and Hutterites were disenfranchised in 1931 by virtue of their special exemption from military service.

PROVINCIAL VOTERS LISTS

The Provincial Voters List contains the name and residential address of every registered voter in British Columbia. Voters lists may also include a voter's profession or trade at the time.

Only voters lists more than 25 years old are publicly available from the BC Archives. To request possible access to more recent lists, contact Elections BC.

Voters lists are catalogued within the BC Archives Library. To request access to a specific voters list, complete a call slip within the reference room. Voters lists must be viewed within the reference room and returned at the end of each day.

Unless otherwise indicated, lists are organized into electoral districts. Ridings and/or polling divisions may also be noted. Initially, electoral districts were listed in order of appearance. Later, electoral districts were listed alphabetically. A corresponding index typically precedes each voters list.

If you do not know a person's address or area you may need to look through several districts to locate them or contact Elections BC to request the person's district.

There is not a voters list for every year.
